YOUTH 4 CHANGE NETWORK

Youth 4 Change Network is an international network that aims at supporting, exchanging and connecting organizations working in favor of Youth inclusion.

OUR MISSION

- Connect organizations together in order to let them share their best practices.

-Act Together by organizing events, sharing and publishing reports.

-Be a support for our members by improving and supporting actions on the field.

OUR VISION

If we share our method, our best practices, and our knowledge we can act together more efficiently for Youth inclusion and help them to be fully integrated into the society.

Regarding this important and critical issue, the NGOs in the field are facing major challenges. They are often alone addressing those difficulties. Because they have access to limited resources, NGOs have to give even more efforts to help the Youth.

ACTIVITY BEFORE THE FORUM

Makada la Chapelle, Itinéraire d'un enfant pas gâté

On the morning of the forum, for the participants who wanted, they could register to a walk organized by the association Bastina, co-funder of the intercultural network named Migrantour.

Migrantour is not only present in Paris, but in several cities in France and also in Europe. The idea is to discover the streets of a city throughout the histories of the people that are living here. To discover neighborhoods that are often negatively perceived, to promote diversity and interculturality.

To discover new cultures, most of the time, people only need to go and explore their city.

During 2 hours, the participants, could hear, in the neighborhoods of La Chapelle, the story of Yasser, a Sudanese refugee, his integration in the neighborhood, the local actors that helped him, the place to go to buy all the products that he is missing from Sudan. He also talked about the difficulties that he encountered, his perilous journey to France, and the exclusion that he faced from some people.

This joyful walk is the perfect opportunity, if you are looking to discover a city differently.

If you want more information about Migrantour, you can check the website : <https://www.migrantour.eu/>

TESTIMONIES

The first part of the 7th edition of the Forum was dedicated to testimonies. The first one was done by Carine Mamifo from the organization Global Compassion.

Global Compassion is an organization, based in Cameroon, that joined the Network in 2016. The organization focuses on the most vulnerable communities, working particularly on social inclusion and peace building.

In her testimony, Carine Mamifo, decided to start with the definition of what is social inclusion, in order to see what is expected from organizations working in the field. She used the definition of the World Bank (2013), in which social inclusion is described as ; the improvement of the living conditions of individuals, for them to be able to participate in society life without discrimination.

The actions of Global Compassion are oriented toward the social, economic, cultural and political inclusion of Youth in Cameroon. For that, they organize events, create spaces, where Youth can freely express themselves, and where they can share their difficulties and try to find solutions to their daily challenges.

Carine Mamifo

In charge of Public Relations

Small glimpse on the different projects focusing on Youth inclusion:

- "Our Diversity Matter"
- "Youth to Breakdown Barriers"
- "Computer Lab Project"

Youth To Breackdown Barriers: is a project that took place in 2020, under the format of a seminar and a conference. The goal was to mobilize Youth on the topics of peace building, extremism and violence, particularly prone to happen in Cameroon.

Computer Lab Project: is a project that started in 2016 in the region of Santchou, and is still active today. The goal is to help Youth to learn computer skills and to gain general knowledge. This center is open for Youth of every culture and religion, in order to promote harmony and tolerance.

If you want to know more about Global Compassion, you can check their website:

For visa reasons, Carine Mamifo was not able to be physically present during the forum. As such, she recorded her testimony.

TESTIMONIES

The second testimony was made by Sonny Nsilulu director of the program “Job dans la Ville”. Sport dans la Ville, is a French association created in 1998. Mostly present in high priority neighborhoods in France, the association focus on professional inclusion through sports.

What is Sport dans la Ville?:

From the age of 6, Youth can have access, twice a week, to various sports for free. The finality of this is to transmit, through sports, values that they will need in the corporate world.

“Job dans la Ville” is a program that Youth, from the age of 14, can join on a voluntary basis. He explained that there are two phases in this program.

First, from 14 years old to the end of High school, the program focuses on discovery. To give the Youth access to a first professional experience, and for them to discover several jobs to built their professional project.

Then, after High school, the emphasis is put on the professional project of the Youth, and on their employability. The program help them find professional experiences that correspond to their aspirations. For 3 years now, the program, in collaboration with State structures in high priority neighborhoods, is identifying Youth that are in rupture from society, to offer them support that is adapted to their needs and particularities.

Sonny Nsilulu

Director of the program
“Job dans la Ville” at
Sport dans la Ville

In the program, the Youth are supported by a counselor, that will follow them for the entirety of their stay. This referent is here to answer their questions regarding orientation, help them in their internship and job search, and to find the best workshops to help them develop their skills.

For the Youth who want, and judge mature enough, they can also be supported by a mentor coming from the corporate world. For one season (from September to July), this mentor will be here to give advices to the Youth.

In parallel, they are working closely with their partners to favor the employability of the Youth. In order to do so, several events are organized all along the year, to put in contact, actors of the professional world and Youth in need. For instance, it can be a job fair, mock interview, or company visit.

If you want to know more about Sport dans la Ville, you can go and check their website:

<https://www.sportdanslaville.com/>

Sport dans la Ville, in numbers it is:

7000 Youth accompany from 6 to 25 years old.

51 Sport centers all over France.

2000 Youth accompany just for this season.

TESTIMONIES

Questions and answers

-Do Sport dans la Ville has any partnership with the city of Paris?

They are mostly present in cities around Paris. In Paris intra-muros, they are present in the 19e arrondissement. However, in other part of Paris, especially in the 18e and the 20e arrondissements, Sport dans la Ville does have partnership with local organizations that are working with Youth. The idea is to work together, and why not create partnership with the local authorities.

-What is the program "Entrepreneur dans la Ville"?

"Job dans la Ville" is indeed just one of the many programs of "Sport dans la Ville".

The differences between 'Job dans la Ville' and 'Entrepreneur dans la Ville':

- "Job dans la Ville" is targeting the Youth that are still going to school, or that have a professional project.

- "Entrepreneur dans la Ville", is a program that was created 10 years ago, with the purpose to go and look for the Youth that have an entrepreneurial project in high-priority neighborhoods. This program is in partnership with the business school EM Lyon, with the possibility for the Youth to develop their entrepreneurial project.

Another program of importance, "L dans la Ville", entirely dedicated to the valorization of young women in high-priority neighborhoods. In general, in those neighborhoods it is complicated to mobilize young women after 12 years old for various reasons.

The objective of this program is to target young women by proposing sports reserved to women, or time frame dedicated to them to practice a sport. Not only was it created to generate more diversity inside the association, but also to have more women entering "Job dans la Ville". "L dans la Ville" proved its usefulness, today 40% of the participants to "Job dans la Ville" are women, compared to only 15% before the implementation of the program.

-How do they mobilize Youth?

There are 2 approaches. The first one for sports, is to go in the neighborhoods, to meet with the Youth, to go look for them at the end of the school day. The importance is also to go and speak with the family, to integrate them, to advocate on what the association is doing. It is also important to work with local actors. The second one, for "Entrepreneur dans la Ville" is a little different. Here the association try to activate their network of partners, and work particularly well thanks to word of mouth.

-Do they organize meeting between the Youth of the association and other Youth?

Yes, there is a very good program, in collaboration with HEC (a business school), that was created. The students from the school can become the mentor of one Youth and to follow him/her during a season. It is a good project to favored diversity.

TESTIMONIES

The third testimony was made by Maria Elisa Ordonez working for Plateforme i, part of the GROUPE SOS. For her testimony, she came accompanied by one of the former Youth of the program TEAME, that she presented.

Plateforme i is an association that is working on professional inclusion projects for people excluded from the job market. They have 2 main activities to tackle this issue.

The first one, is to support excluded population (socially and professionally).

The second one, is the support of the organization to companies who want to change their HR strategy, for a more inclusive one. For this, they advocate, organize training and connect actors through job dating.

Program TEAME

The project was created in 2017, and is mostly implemented around Paris. The project is entirely dedicated to the Youth. It is a remobilization program that focuses on training and employment. The idea is to propose an intensive training of 10 weeks, during which the Youth are put into groups of 10. During those 10 weeks, the Youth will work on a project that they chose together. The Youth are in complete autonomy, and are the one in charge of the project.

Maria Elisa Ordonez

In charge of partnership at Plateforme i

In parallel, after the 10 weeks, for the one who wants, it is possible to get individual guidance. It will help on their professional project, and especially to help the Youth identify the obstacles she/he is going to meet in their professional life.

Examples of collective projects:

TEAME 93 in Saint-Denis decided to work on the topic of city waste. They decided to create an advocacy campaign for the inhabitants of the city, focusing on the people in charge of collecting the waste. They made portraits of them, then created flash codes that they put into the trash cans all over the city. When someone scanned the code, they have access to the testimonies made.

TEAME in Cergy decide to focus on the topic of food waste. For this, they went and met the producers at the local market and picked all the unsold goods. Then, they decided to organize a zero waste cooking contest. They looked for a jury, a cuisine, a place to organize the event, and the participants could only use the unsold food.

TESTIMONIES

Mohammed Diatta is 24 years old and just recently finished the program TEAME. He was here as an Ambassador for the program.

When he was younger, he did not really like school, especially in High school. However, he still went through it, first to get his diploma, but especially to make his parents proud. After that, he went from odd jobs to odd jobs, without really liking any of them (Amazon, Foot Locker...). Then covid happened. And it became difficult to keep a job, or in his case to find a job. That is when he heard about the TEAME program.

Unfortunately, after the 10 weeks of the collective project, he still did not know what he wanted to do with his life.

In his personal time, he coaches football to children. His mentor at the TEAME, then, asked him, why was he not doing something sport related in his life? It is at that time he realized he had never thought about it.

Today, he is proud to say that, he is on his way to become a sport educator, having just recently started his training. But he is also an Ambassador for the TEAME program, helping, in return, the Youth of the program.

Mohammed Diatta
Ambassador TEAME

What about his collective project?

With his TEAME, they decided to work on the topic of people living in the street. The goal of the project was to raise awareness, among Youth, on the situation of the people living in the street. For this, they made a video of them distributing foods to the people living in the street.

If you are interested in the TEAME program, you can check the website of Plateforme i under this address:

<https://www.plateforme-i.fr/>

Questions and answers

-At what moment did he realized he wanted to be an Ambassador?

At first, he was doing presentations to the Youth that were doing their collective project, but he could not really see why he was doing this. Then, at one point, he had to replace a referent, to supervise a TEAME. It is at this point that he started to like what he was doing. It is when he saw that he was useful. The Youth came to him, to ask advises, he helped them to do their CV and cover letter and thanked him. He was doing what the referent did for him in the past, and he felt useful, he clearly saw what he could bring them.

TESTIMONIES

Yunus Centre Paris was created in 2017 by Professor Yunus, Nobel Peace Prize Laureate. The centre is the first Yunus Centre to be born outside of Bangladesh, its purpose is to promote a world of 3 zeros. The last testimony was made by Philippe Axus, director of the Yunus Centre Paris.

In 2017, Professor Yunus defined three urgencies in the world. The first one being, Global Warming, then Extreme Poverty and to finish, Unemployment and Social Exclusion.

To answer to those challenges, Professor Yunus built the principle of the 3 zeros. It means to achieve zero unemployment, zero carbon dioxide emission and zero concentration of wealth, or zero poverty. Based on this, the 3 zero clubs were created.

The clubs have been created as space for the Youth, in order for them to exploit their potential. Today in the world, there are a lot of Youth that are trying to do something, like Greta Thunberg for instance, pointing fingers at the people responsible. By creating those clubs, Professor Yunus is actually betting on them, because they have the knowledge, skills and technology to change things.

What are the 3 zero clubs?

It is always the same formula ; to create a club, you only need 5 members (from 12 to 35 years old). The idea is to create an international network, to connect the Youth with each other.

Philippe Axus

President of Yunus Center Paris

Lots of events are organized for the Youth, in order for them to work with each other:

- Challenges are organized regularly (especially by the team in Dhaka in Bangladesh), lots of people are registering to these challenges.
- Fictions: the purpose of this is to invent the life of a Youth in 2050, either to paint it in a bad light or in a good light.
- Contests are also put into place, on ideas such as: what idea of business would you like to develop? These contests can allow the Youth to win up to 10,000 USD, a good price for the Youth to try and start their business.

Yunus Centre Paris has been working in collaboration with Flore Vasseur, director of the movie Bigger than us. The idea of the movie is that, yes, there are problems in our societies, but solutions can and need to be implemented. The movie is divided into several portraits of Youth, that all answer to one question: "What concrete action this person is doing?"

PHOTO EXHIBITION

In 2020, Victorine Alisse went to Greece in order to do a coverage on the camp of Moria (refugee camp). Her project was to go and meet up with the women of the camp. At that time, women were a minority inside the camp, only representing 20% of the total population. She spent time with them and their families, to try to understand what they were going through. What was really important for her was to give them a voice, a space where they could say what they wanted. The exhibition is a way to outline their testimonies.

Today, this camp no longer exist, because it burned down. In 2020, inhabitant of the camp, in distress and protest of their living condition, started the fire. Today, several other camps have been built in Greece in order to better control the population. But it is not a durable solution.

Victorine Alisse is working with associations for their communication, in order to finance her projects.

BOOK PRESENTATION

Lucie was a volunteer for Life Project 4 Youth (member and founder of Y4CN) for 3 years. During this time, she had the opportunity to work in Nepal and India. Her book Bahini is about her experience and what she learned.

Lucie Dubert worked as a volunteer for LP4Y in India and Nepal for three years from 2017 until 2020. First as a Coach in Bangalore in India, then in charge of the Green Village in Nepal (to know more about LP4Y's pedagogy, go on and check their website lp4y.org).

In her book, Lucie shares with us what she has learned from this experience, what the Youth have taught her. By describing their lives, their daily lives, their evolution in the program, Lucie gives them a voice. Here is her story.

In Bahini, Lucie shares the most powerful moments of her three years spent as a volunteer with the Life Project 4 Youth (LP4Y) organization, in the heart of slum neighborhoods in Bangalore and Kathmandu. Working for the professional integration of the poorest and most excluded young adults, she experiences the strength and resilience of these forgotten communities.

BOOK PRESENTATION

Life Project 4 Youth, historical member of Y4CN, and also its founder, participated in the forum, and presented one of its project.

55 + Solutions for Youth Inclusion, is a compilation of all the practices that the organization is implementing.

The LP4Y movement is building a healthy and fruitful ecosystem for Youth inclusion, developing specific tools and guidance, in order to break the vicious circle of exclusion, day by day. Today, more than ever, we have to act together to answer this emergency.

This tangible approach, this willingness to act, to develop projects, is precisely what motivated the creation of this book. A White Paper - or research document - presenting the main innovative solutions - practical and field-oriented but also conceptual - underlying LP4Y's actions towards Youth inclusion implemented over the past 12 years.

If you are interested in this book, you can email this address. A PDF version of the book will be sent to you:
whitepaper@lp4y.org

What are these solutions and how do they work?

These are the two main questions the LP4Y teams were challenged to answer, with the instruction to be as concrete as possible.

1 year and a half of interviewing and writing process, 250 pages, 41 volunteers involved, more than 20 hours of correction, approximately 2500 comments and 3000 answers.

As a result, three chapters including 55+ sheets, each dedicated to a specific solution.

A perfect tool for advocacy.

WORLD CAFE

For the second part of the forum, Y4CN organized a World Café. The participants were divided into 3 teams. Each team, had to, for a given time, brainstorm on a given subject before moving to another table, following the format of a café. The purpose of this World Café was to find concrete solutions to be implemented by the organizations.

Here the three questions that were answered by the participants:

1. What kind of difficulties and opportunities are you facing regarding Youth Inclusion in your organization? Describe the issues you are facing.
2. Describe a moment in your life where you either witness a situation of Youth inclusion or Youth exclusion.
3. How could we improve Youth inclusion in our societies? What tools could we put into place to help the Youth?

Each table had a moderator who was in charge of taking all the notes to do a small recap at the end.

Our 3 moderators for the session

Aurore Pamanian

Mohammed Diatta
TEAME Ambassador

TABLE 1

1. What kind of difficulties and opportunities are you facing regarding Youth inclusion in your organization? Describe the issues you are facing.

Difficulties encountered by the various organizations present during the forum

-The Youth tend to get bored with the programs, they are not keeping their motivation up for the entirety of their stay in the program.

-Today there are too many tools and support that exist, instead of it being positive for the Youth, most of the time it is the contrary.

-There is still today an issue regarding the financial dimension, because lots of the Youth in the programs do not have any identification paper, bank account or credit card.

-Today, the associations/organizations that are working in Youth inclusion are facing lots of administrative obstacles.

-Most of the Youth have no idea of what their rights are, and that they are actually facing discrimination and that they can ask for help.

-The dimension of the family, the social dimension, should not be forgotten. In most cases, the Youth do not have any independence on their decisions, if their families tell them that they cannot follow a program, then the chances are high that the Youth will not do it. The key is to mostly convince the parents first.

-It is still hard today, even in France, for the Youth to have access to the necessary tools to be supported by an organization. Most of the Youth know how a smartphone works, and they have access to it. However, fewer are the one that have access to a computer, and know how to use one.

-There is, as of today, not enough individual follow-up of the Youth.

TABLE 2

2. Describe a moment in your life where you either witness a situation of youth inclusion or youth exclusion.

At this table, the participants talked about their personal experiences and gave testimonies regarding inclusion and exclusion. As such, this is a general recap of the form of inclusion and exclusion that the participants either lived or witnessed.

Note: people are not always born into exclusion, because of different circumstances, it is possible to find oneself excluded from society overnight.

The different form of exclusion experienced/witnessed by the participants:

- Exclusion of the Youth because of language barrier.
- Exclusion of the Youth because they have mental health issues.
- Exclusion of the Youth because they have too many diplomas.

The form of Youth Inclusion witnessed or experienced by the participants:

- Inclusion of the Youth thanks to the cooperation of several actors, all working in the field of social inclusion.
- The Youth were included into society because the accent was not only put on their professional project.
- To include the Youth by creating space, open for everyone.
- Inclusion of the Youth thanks to meet up organized between the Youth and several actors (professional and social field).
- Inclusion of Youth thanks to program and projects that are built on the long term.
- To emphasize on the importance communities play on the inclusion of the Youth.

TABLE 3

3. How could we improve Youth Inclusion in our societies? What tools could we put into place to help the Youth?

The theme for this year forum was, 20 actions to implement for a better Youth inclusion, as such here are the 20 actions that were considered by the participants during their stay at table 3.

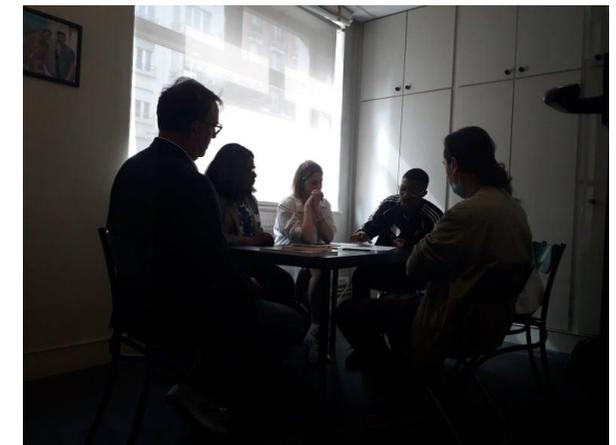

- 1 The support system provided to the Youth must be reinforced.
- 2 The Youth taking part in the program must commit to results and duties.
- 3 The Youth must know what rights they have.
- 4 To go and look for the Youth that are invisible (they are the one that need support).
- 5 The programs must be individualized, in order to correspond to the needs and particularity of each Youth.
- 6 To train former Youth of the program for them to become ambassador for the program.
- 7 To work with local structures that are close to the Youth (to avoid competition between organizations).
- 8 To co built the program: to integrate Youth in the construction of the program. Program for the Youth, by the Youth.
- 9 To organize meetup (sport event, entertainment...) to learn more about the Youth.
- 10 To make the program accessible to the Youth.

TABLE 3

3. How could we improve Youth Inclusion in our societies? What tools could we put into place to help the Youth?

- 11 To be part of a Network of organizations working on Youth inclusion.
- 12 To work more on the self-esteem of the Youth.
- 13 To organize visits and meetings with people coming from the corporate world.
- 14 To create an online platform to put in contact the youth and professionals.
- 15 To start the programs younger (and to focus on professional orientation at school).
- 16 To better coordinate the existing programs (to create a good ecosystem).

- 17 To organize intergenerational meetings.
- 18 To have a clear follow up of the people in charge of accompanying the Youth.
- 19 To invest more into sport for the Youth.
- 20 To work more closely with schools.

CONCLUSION SPEECH

As the co-founder of Y4CN, the current team invited Laure Delaporte to deliver the last speech of the day.

When LP4Y was created in 2009, the idea was to develop innovative solutions to accompany excluded Youth. The 3 main missions being, to accompany, to advocate and encourage. During this journey, the founders realized that to share their experiences with other organizations was the way to become stronger, and more efficient in helping the Youth. It is from this observation that Y4CN was born. Y4CN is before everything else a beautiful human adventure, between the participants present during the forum, but also the members that could not be here, and all the volunteers that worked for the Network those last 10 years.

In 10 years, the Y4CN team organized forums, meet-up, workshops, testimonies and more, events to facilitate exchange and the sharing of best practices between organization.

Laure Delaporte
Co-Founder of LP4Y
and Y4CN

One of the first ever published report by Y4CN had a conclusion that, even after 10 years, still resonate and make sense. A conclusion that Laure Delaporte shared with all the participants.

1. Work in partnership.
2. Exchange between organization/NGO.
3. To involve the families and the communities.
4. To insist on the individual dimension of the support.
5. To build the Youth confidence.
6. To make them autonomous.
7. As an organization, to work as well at the local level than at the international one.

This conclusion is the proof that still today, organizations need to work together to create a better included world.

Together we can!

GENERAL CONCLUSION

This forum was the perfect opportunity for the actors of Youth inclusion to meet and discuss with each other about the possible solutions that they can implement to better their action.

Through the testimonies during the first part of the events, participants had the possibility to discover the solutions implemented by others.

1. Global Compassion and its actions on peace building, and giving a voice to the Youth.
2. Sport dans la Ville and its unique pedagogy, to work on professional inclusion through sports.
3. Plateforme i and its program TEAME that autotomize the Youth and gave them the possibility to lead a project.
4. The 3 zero clubs that give the opportunity for the Youth to discover their full potential and to become entrepreneurs.

The forum was also the occasion to celebrate the 10th year anniversary of Y4CN.
In 10 years, Y4CN, organized various events that contributed to support Youth inclusion.

Let's keep acting and doing together, to create a better world!

GENERAL CONCLUSION

In the second part of the forum, the idea was to leave the floor to the participants in order for them to find the solutions.

What resulted is a very constructive list of recommendations/actions that all organizations working on Youth inclusion should try to follow and implement.

Every year Y4CN organizes this forum for these exact reasons, to give the possibility to all person concerned, to gather and find solutions on how to improve Youth inclusion.

The sanitary situation that the world went through for 2 years, and that is still going on, profoundly impacted our societies. More than ever, the young adults of the world, need organizations that are willing to work together to help better their situations.

The Y4CN team would like to thank all the participants of the Forum, but also the moderators and the volunteers that gladly give some of their times to help the team.
